

OXFORD, May 8.

To-morrow, the ninth day of May instant, a Charity Sermon will be preached in the parish church of All Saints, in this city, by the Rev. Dr. Landon, Provost of Worcester College, for the benefit of poor girls educated and clothed by the subscriptions of Ladies and Gentlemen in and near Oxford.—Service will begin at eleven.

His Royal Highness Prince William of Gloucester has been pleased to appoint the Rev. William Hodgson Cole, M. A. of Windlesham, Surrey, one of his domestic Chaplains.

The Rev. Mr. Graves, the venerable Rector of Claverton, near Bath, now in his 87th year, is presented to the Living of Croscombe, in the county of Somerset.

On Tuesday last was married, at Hatchlands, the seat of G. H. Sumner, Esq. James Laurell, Esq. of Eastwick Park, near Leatherhead, Surrey, to Miss Parsons, only daughter of the late John Parsons, M. D. of this University.

On Tuesday last was married at North Aston, in this county, the Rev. Samuel Henshall, Fellow of Brasenose College, & Rector of Stratford Bow, Middlesex, to Miss Pearson of North Aston.

On Wednesday last died, in the 20th year of her age, Miss Sarah Ann Galloway, second daughter of Mr. Thos. Galloway, of this city.

Yesterday died, aged 14, Mr. Wm. Hitchings, second son of Mr. Edward Hitchings, one of the Assistants of this city.

On Monday the 26th of April an inquisition was taken in the parish of St. Clement, near this city, by Mr. Buckland, one of His Majesty's Coroners for this county, on view of the body of Francis Philpot, who was a native of Barking, in Essex. It appeared in evidence that the deceased had been seen in the streets of this city for many days in great distress, and after being relieved by the Mayor had been taken out of the town several times and promised not to return; and that on the Saturday preceding the inquisition he was conveyed by the City Marshall, under the authority of a riding pass, to the above-mentioned parish of St. Clement, where he some time after died. The Jury, from the circumstances, were minute in their investigation, and were perfectly satisfied that the deceased died by the Visitation of God.

Saturday last an inquisition was taken before George Best, Gent. Coroner, on view of the body of Mary Hopkins, lying dead at Shipston-upon-Stour, who, on the preceding Wednesday, wilfully threw herself into the river Stour, near that place, and was drowned. The Jury, after a full investigation as to the cause of the death, returned a verdict of Self-murder, in consequence of which she was, by virtue of the Coroner's warrant, buried in the public highway.—An improper connection with a young man, of whom she was jealous, is supposed to have been the reason of her committing the above rash act.

At Leominster and Bromyard fairs, on Monday last, cattle felt a depression in price; sheep and pigs were also somewhat lower.

At Shrewsbury fair, on Wednesday last, fat cattle sold at reduced prices; lean stock, sheep, and pigs, went off rather brisk. Cheese sold from 45s. to 58s. per cwt.

MARRIED.—Mr. Court, of Powick, to Mrs. Lowick, of Worcester.—Mr. Saloway, Grocer, of Stratford upon Avon, to Miss Hopkins, of Alcester.—Mr. Hodges, of Bidford, to Miss E. Chare, of Oversley Green.—Mr. Truslove, of Sambourn, to Miss Smith, of Cubbington, near Warwick.—Mr. Holt, Tea Dealer, of Gloucester, to Miss Arabella Atcherley, second daughter of the Rev. J. Atcherley, late of Shrewsbury.—At the Quakers' Meeting House, in Alcester, Mr. Thomas Harris, of Evesham, to Miss Mary Marshall, of Netherton.

DIED.—Mrs. Wheeler, wife of Mr. John Wheeler, of Newnham, near Tenbury.—At Carmarthen, Thomas Cookes, Esq. the eldest and surviving son of the Rev. Thomas Cookes, late of Worcester.—The Rev. John Russell, Rector of Helmedon, Northamptonshire, and of Ilmington, Warwickshire.—Mrs. Sarah Jameson, wife of Mr. R. B. Jameson, of Droitwich.—Mr. Thos. Smith, Farmer, of Hanbury Hall, in this county.—Mr. John Hickes, youngest son of William Hickes, of Beckford, in the county of Gloucester.

DEAFNESS.—Two most extraordinary cures have lately been performed at Leek, in Staffordshire, by Dr. Taylor's Remedy for Deafness. One of the persons cured had been deaf for about fifty years. We expect shortly to give the particulars, as they have been transmitted to the preparer, by Mr. C. Lowe, of Leek. Not only does this remedy cure the most obstinate degree of this complaint, but it is a most excellent specific in cases of temporary deafness; and the ingredients of which it is composed are perfectly mild and simple. It is sold at 8s. 6d. each, by Mrs. Jones, at the Printing Office, High Street, Oxford; and may be had genuine of the agents and newsmen.
